

Supervisor Profile – Chris McRae

I have a heart to see leaders flourish! With over 20 year's experience in senior leadership, ministering in the local church and in the Christian School community, I have come to greatly value the role of supervision in providing a supportive, confidential and constructive opportunity for reflection and recalibration in the midst of a leader's busy schedule. With 25 year's school board governance experience I have a particular heart to support leaders whose church ministries include the added complexity of a Christian School, and also to support women in senior leadership positions in churches and schools. I currently enjoy supervising chaplains and pastors across various denominations. I offer a free, no obligation initial session to allow potential new supervisees to get a 'feel' for the supervision I provide. I am confident that professional supervision makes an important contribution to ensuring the sustainability, effectiveness and enjoyment of each leader's role.
